INTRODUCTION

In today's unpredictable world, uncertainty inevitably influences our collective mindset and the way we prioritize opportunities. However, the desire to embrace life remains strong, with a particular emphasis on travel and meaningful connections with loved ones. Amidst these external challenges, our homes continue to serve as sanctuaries - providing comfort, security, and refuge from an ever-changing environment.

In recent years, we have observed a growing appreciation for furniture design and interiors inspired by the 1960s and 1970s. This resurgence has significantly contributed to the renewed interest in deeper brown tones and the incorporation of vibrant orange hues. We believe this era represents a lasting and influential trend—one that has now reached a critical level of awareness within our distribution network.

At the same time, there is a growing fascination with the pop culture of the 1960s, particularly the bold and colorful works of Verner Panton. Innovation Living shares a unique connection to this influential designer through a noteworthy collaboration in the late 1990s.

The 2025 Collection is structured around two complementary design directions, each reflecting distinct yet harmonious aesthetics:

- Bold & Colorful – Carpe Diem, embraces bold and vibrant colors, appealing to those who seek to maintain an optimistic and dynamic outlook.
- Timeless Elegance – offering a more subdued and sophisticated aesthetic for those who prefer a refined and enduring atmosphere.

Earthy tones remain a dominant trend, though we are witnessing a shift from a nest-like ambiance to a more cave-inspired aesthetic. Light beige hues are gradually giving way to richer, deeper browns, complemented by accents of deep orange, creating a sense of warmth and grounded sophistication. We firmly believe that our designs, characterized by a distinct Scandinavian design DNA and refined craftsmanship, particularly in intricate joinery details, will continue to hold strong commercial appeal in 2025.

We recognize that each consumer is unique, with distinct preferences and needs. Our mission is to curate a diverse and inspiring collection of high-quality designs that reflect contemporary trends while maintaining relevance and timeless appeal. Rooted in the rich tradition of modern European design, we honor its heritage by ensuring that our work aligns with its core principles of craftsmanship, functionality, and aesthetic integrity.

Each of our designs is thoughtfully created to enhance everyday life - both visually and practically - while embodying a level of character and quality that ensures durability and long-term value.

Let's make 2025 a year of growth and achievement.

Best regards

INSPIRATION:
THE MAINSTREAM CHARACTER OF 1970S INTERIORS

The 1970s style is characterized by warm shades like burnt orange, along with soothing neutral hues such as cream, beige, brown and pastels. These colors create a relaxing atmosphere and are incredibly versatile, making them easy to mix and match with other design elements in your home. Incorporating these warm shades can effortlessly infuse your space with the laid-back vibe that defines 1970s-inspired interiors.

NEUTRAL ZONE
One wall of the living room is dominated by a mural sculpture by Malcolm Hill. The wooden cabinet against the wall has sculptures and masks from Kenya. The black leather armchairs by designer Poul Kjaerholm face a vintage log centre table. To the left is a small table with a lamp, and a sofa from Shama Shah Design (SSD). The sisal carpet is from Merida.

VERNER PANTON - A PART OF OUR HISTORY:
THE COLORFUL AND CARPE DIEM OPPONENT TO THE MAINSTRAM PROFILE - DARE TO CHALLENGE THE EXISTING.

Considered the enfant terrible of his generation, Panton embraced what it meant to be a Danish designer while redefining the function of furniture. One thing that is unflinchingly evident in Panton's work, is that he believed in the choice of the everyday individual. Through careful study and application of pattern, systems and colour Panton created mass-produced products that could be curated by the end-user to build their own unique world, inspired by his.

INSPIRATION:
STRIPES, POP CULTURE & REFLECTIVE COLD SURFACES

Bold black and white stripes have long been a timeless staple in both fashion and interior design. Following years of subdued plaster tones and monochromatic aesthetics, there is a growing demand for more visually dynamic elements. Stripes naturally emerge as a go-to choice, offering a striking yet versatile design solution.

We have experienced a prolonged preference for warm, golden-toned metals. However, there is now a noticeable shift toward cooler, highly reflective metallic surfaces, such as classic chrome, polished stainless steel, and aluminum. Additionally, the use of mirrors is expanding, offering innovative ways to enhance spatial experiences and create visually dynamic environments.

INSPIRATION:
THE REINTRODUCED UPHOLSTERY ICONS OF THE 1960S AND 1970S

In recent years, leading design brands such as Cassina, B&B Italia, and Ligne Roset have reintroduced a number of iconic pieces from the late 1960s and early 1970s, reflecting a renewed appreciation for this era's distinctive aesthetics. Among these, Ligne Roset's Togo has emerged as one of the most sought-after designs, reaffirming its status as a timeless and highly coveted piece in contemporary interiors.

OUR DESIGN DNA:
STANDING ON THE BACK OF THE MODERN EUROPEAN DESIGN HISTORY

We are committed to upholding the principles of modern European design, drawing inspiration from the Bauhaus school's philosophy of leveraging industrial production to deliver high-quality products for the everyday individual. Our goal is to create original designs that reflect our shared cultural heritage and collective consciousness, embodying timeless values that contribute to a distinctive and recognizable aesthetic identity.

We also recognize the importance of diversity, acknowledging that individual preferences and perspectives play a vital role in design development and product selection. However, we remain dedicated to ensuring that every design and product we create is distinguished by our signature commitment to aesthetic excellence, functional utility, and long-lasting durability.

INSPIRATION:
EMBRACING DIVERSITY AND THE CONFIDENCE TO EXPRESS
YOUR UNIQUE STYLE AT HOME

For several years, there has been a distinct preference for minimalist and sophisticated interiors, a trend we anticipate will remain influential. However, we are now witnessing a resurgence of design inspired by the 1960s and 1970s Bohemian aesthetic. This shift embraces a more eclectic approach, blending diverse elements and styles. There is a growing confidence in curating highly personalized living spaces where contemporary and vintage pieces coexist harmoniously, complemented by vibrant color accents. A trend that is also largely driven by a desire to act sustainably through the purchase and implementation of meaningful vintage elements.

VISIBILITY IS ESSENTIAL FOR ACHIEVING SUCCESS

BOLD & COLORFUL

Eyecatching

Limited Audience

During the 1990s our concept was specifically tailored to appeal to the MTV generation, but with the primary revenue driven by mainstream styles targeting audiences beyond this demographic.

Our 2025 collection is inspired by this vision. Bold & Colorful is designed with the clear expectation that it will resonate with a European audience, generating interest in our brand and attracting a strong customer base. While we anticipate that Bold & Colorful will capture attention, we expect the majority of revenue to be driven by the Timeless Elegance collection, which appeals to a broader commercial market. Our approach to design ensures versatility across our product range, allowing for seamless adaptation to various interior styles. By curating a broad collection where individual pieces can be styled in either direction, we maximize the appeal of each product. This strategic flexibility not only enhances the longevity of our designs but also allows us to tap into multiple market segments with a single product.

Our marketing efforts will be centered around Bold & Colorful, leveraging its impact to drive sales within the Timeless Elegance collection.

Given this strategic approach, it is essential that all product ranges - both online and offline - align with these expectations.

DESIGN MATTERS

Per Weiss, born in Denmark in 1959, is a distinguished Danish designer and currently serves as the Chief Design Officer at Innovation Living. A pivotal member of the company since 1989, he has been the creative driving force behind the consistent evolution and development of its collections.

Weiss's career began in the arts, where he pursued his passion as a professional rock musician. However, his creative aspirations ultimately led him to design. In 1988, he graduated as an industrial designer from the School of Architecture in Aarhus. Following his graduation, Weiss honed his design skills working briefly with renowned Danish architectural firms such as Schmidt, Hammer & Lassen, and Friis & Moltke, before committing fully to his design vision.

Innovation Living initiated a groundbreaking collaboration in 1996 with the iconic designer Verner Panton. Together, they worked on pioneering projects such as the Phantom Chair, Panto Pop, Panto Beam, and Illumesa. This partnership fostered a close and inspiring dialogue between Panton and Weiss, which continued until Panton's passing in 1998.

Weiss's design philosophy is deeply rooted in a respect for the modernist European design tradition, with a natural affinity for the Scandinavian design ethos. His work embodies a commitment to creating innovative, functional, and enduring designs that enhance everyday life and deliver both aesthetic and practical value.

Through his leadership and vision, Weiss remains dedicated to the pursuit of timeless and transformative design, ensuring a lasting impact on the world of contemporary interiors.

CRAFTSMANSHIP, QUALITY AND LONGIVITY

Beyond design, we prioritize exceptional craftsmanship and high quality materials, ensuring timeless aesthetics and reliable performance. Our mission is to create long-lasting products that seamlessly combine functionality and beauty.

For over 30 years, flatpack design has been at the core of our ethos, reflecting our commitment to sustainability, efficiency, and durability. This approach reduces CO2 emissions, optimizes storage, and minimizes transport-related damages.

Flatpack design also drives innovation through modular components, enabling easy assembly, maintenance, and repair, while readily available spare parts extend product life and promote sustainable consumption.

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSIDERATIONS

We contribute to the balance of the global ecosystem by planting more than 10,000 trees every year to compensate for our consumption of wood.

We thoughtfully select all materials, considering their overall quality and the sustainability profile of the product.

A growing part of our collection comes with detachable and washable covers.

Our production facilities are FSC®-certified.

Our designs and packaging are optimized to ensure minimized CO<sub>2</sub> emissions in relation to transport and storage.

Our design strategy allows for easy replacement of components to prolong a product's life cycle.

Our fabrics and foams are OEKO-TEX® certified. OEKO-TEX® is one of the world's best-known labels for testing harmful substances, ensuring these are excluded from the products and guaranteeing customer confidence and high product safety.

We offer a 5-year warranty on all designs and a lifetime warranty on slats and gears for sofa beds in the Multifunctionals category. See guidelines and terms at www.innovationliving.com

GIVE BACK TO NATURE

To support the balance of the global ecosystem, Innovation Living plants over 10,000 new trees annually to offset our wood consumption.

DETACHABLE COVERS

Recognizing the clear advantages, an increasing portion of our collection features detachable and washable covers. The sofas marked with the "Detachable covers" symbol are designed for easy maintenance, with covers that can be machine washed at 30 degrees Celsius. Additionally, upholstery can be replaced when worn or simply to refresh the sofa's appearance. This approach allows you to update your sofa without the need for a full replacement, significantly reducing environmental impact.

FABRICS

For designs where removable covers are not feasible, fabric durability and ease of cleaning are essential to ensuring long-lasting quality. To enhance resilience, all fabrics are crafted to be highly durable and are further reinforced with backing materials. All fabrics, except Faunal and Silvershine, are engineered to withstand washing at 30 degrees Celsius, enabling effective wet cleaning. Additionally, all fabrics meet the OEKO-TEX® Standard 100 certification, guaranteeing they are free from harmful substances.

RECYCLED FABRICS

The availability of fabrics made from recycled fibers is steadily growing, and we are continually exploring the innovative and exciting new options. We encourage you to take a look at our Bouclé and Esina fabric selections for recycled options.

LOWER CO2 FOOTPRINT

Since 1989, all our products have been designed for flat packing, which minimizes CO<sub>2</sub> emissions during transportation and storage. We continuously work to reduce the environmental impact of our activities, and you can read more about our specific initiatives on our website. Although we are not CO<sub>2</sub> neutral, we are committed to minimizing our CO<sub>2</sub> footprint.

MAINTAIN AND REFRESH

Designing for flat packing involves creating a set of components that can be easily assembled into a complete product. While the complexity and number of parts may differ between products, this design approach enables straightforward replacement of individual components. This not only extends the product's life cycle—by allowing for the replacement of worn-out parts or updating its appearance—but also supports sustainability and practicality.

DISASSEMBLY AND RECYCLING

Our design process prioritizes the disassembly of products and materials at the end of their life cycle. We thoughtfully select materials, determine optimal methods for combining them, and try to ensure they can be separated into individual components for recycling. Each design poses unique challenges, with some being more conducive to disassembly than others. Nevertheless, moving in a more sustainable direction remains an important part of our design philosophy, and the environmental impact is carefully considered in every product we create.

CERTIFIED PRODUCTION FACILITIES

We are committed to supporting the development of local communities, contributing to a better future in the regions where we operate. To ensure continuous improvement, our production facilities are regularly audited to verify compliance with our group values and adherence to established working conditions, as outlined by third-party standards like the amfori BSCI Code of Conduct. Furthermore, our production facilities follow amfori BEPI standards and are FSC®-certified, reflecting our dedication to responsible and sustainable practices.
